LEPROSY SCARE WAS DENIED BY CARLSMITH

Hilo Man Tells Mainland Newspaper Truth About Wild Rumors

Carl S. Carlsmith was captured and interviewed by a reporter on the Albuquerque, New Mexico, Herald, with the following results:
That the professions in Honolulu are overcrowded and that immigration is not needed to develop the resources of the Hawaiian Islands was the statement made last evening by Carl S. Carlsmith of Hilo, Hawaii, chairman of a delegation of twelve, which passed through here from Hilo en route to the Republican national convention at Chicago. While the delegation is instructed for Tall, conversation with some of the members elicited the fact that personally it consists mostly of Roosevelt men.

Mr. Carlsmith talked interestingly of conditions in the islands, which he described as meriting their name of "The Paradise of the Pacific," although the gentleman does not appear overly anxious for additional Americans to come in and permanently enjoy the blessings of the isles.

"In Honolulu," said the delegate, "there are about 10,000 English speaking people as compared with a native population of 50,000. Polynesians, nevertheless, the professions, medicine, law, dentistry and what not, are overcrowded and in my opinion the opportunities for newcomers are not great. As a tourist Mecca, Honolulu is all that could be desired and a trip there does not cost much. Steamer fare being $130 and hotel rates about the same as on the mainland—$2.50 to $3.00 per day. An unusually large percentage of the people, native born and American, are well educated, many of the Hawaiians having received complete technical and professional education in American universities.

The natives are born politicians, shrewd and intelligent, and most of the local offices are held by them throughout the islands. The schools are up to date and conditions generally compare well with those in American mainland states." Mr. Carlsmith says that the sugar industry is the leading one in the islands and is conducted on a huge scale.

Asked concerning the stories of the increase of leprosy in the islands, Mr. Carlsmith said that no attention is paid to the matter there, there being not over 1,000 lepers in the islands with little danger of infection save in the districts of ill-repute. He said that Governor Dole had appointed a commission which is now making a study of the social evil, which has become unusually grave, especially among the Japanese, Russians, Filipinos and Chinese. This commission will make recommendations after an exhaustive study of conditions.

The Hawaiian delegation will make its headquarters while in Chicago at the Hotel La Salle, where quarters were engaged three months ago.

"DAGO RED" LEADS TO ANOTHER STABBING

Two soldiers started a small panic among the denizens of Liliha yesterday afternoon and for nearly an hour the entire district was thrown into an uproar and confusion, as the two men fought desperately for the possession of a penknife.

As both were stupefied by overdrafts of "dago red," they were unable to do each other much damage although one of them, J. J. Musson, is now in the Fort Shafter hospital recovering from two penknife wounds inflicted in the abdomen and the leg.

No one was able to tell what the cause of the quarrel was about for both were unable to answer any questions intelligently when interrogated at the police station. Musson's assailant, John Semph, was captured by Henry David and locked up. Musson was sent to Queen's hospital, returned to the police station again, where he was sent to the St. Louis hospital in the evening. His wounds are not serious.

THE DOCTORS FEE.
A quack brought into court in St. Louis the other day explained that in Michigan he had been a doctor, a real doctor. One night he rode twenty miles in a blizzard and received a dozen eggs as a fee. This, he said, cured him of being a doctor.
